3.1. Gluten review:

To be reviewed

Final products of the client comply with the requirements of "gluten free" claim for food, if the gluten level does not exceed 20 mg/kg, according to Codex standard 118-1981 (amended 1983; revised 2008) and GB retained EU Regulation (EU) No 828/2014.

The gluten level reported for the product is based on a conservative assessment constructed on the gluten level of the ingredients and their respective level in the formula. In the absence of validated methods for gluten analysis in compounded products, no reliable analytical quantification can be provided for.

For wheat starch derivatives the following administrative value is applied as indicated by the relevant suppliers: maltodextrin, glucose syrup, dextrose (<20 mg/kg).

4. GMO Status*(according to GB retained EU Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 and 1830/2003 and associated industry guidelines):

Non GMO (IP): This product does contain, consist of or has been produced from species where a commercially available genetically modified source does exist. However, these ingredients are sourced from an "identity preserved" program and the non GMO origin can be confirmed.

We have reviewed this product for the following sources: alfalfa, apple, bean, chicory, corn, cotton, eggplant, eucalyptus, flax, melon, papaya, pink pineapple, plum, potato, rapeseed, rice, safflower, salmon, soy, squash, sugar beet, sugarcane, tomato and wheat.
